

THE ALCHEMICAL COMPONENTS OF THE URUSAK

The Rainbow Spiral of the Tube Torus of Creation

Evolution takes place through cycles and spirals of upward movement that perpetually refine life to ever higher expression. Almine has stated that the tube torus is the basic 'structure' that is here to stay...

In notes for the Urusak Water device gathered from her teachings, Almine has stated that the spiral of the Urusak corresponds to the spiral of evolution of life that is like a tube torus. So let's look at how this is so, in order to better understand the water alchemy taking place through the device...

Almine has, in fact, often spoken of reality as being a tube torus – like a giant donut in motion, with a torque so that everything travels around the donut with the center hole as the axis point. If you were to make the tube torus with seven colors of the rainbow (corresponding to the seven chakras), they would look like they are traveling along the whole donut, moving toward the center and back out again, always eventually coming back to their origin.

The torque is like the force of karma, such that what is set in motion comes back to its origin, to be revisited – hopefully from a higher perspective. The cycles of evolution playing out within a certain frequency band of consciousness, if you will, go through this refinement process until that cycle is played out and life moves to a higher order. This creates an upward spiral of evolution.

But when from heightened consciousness, we live fully present to what the moment calls for, that force of movement 'through the donut' must come from something other than karma.

Let's examine the tube torus compelled by karma a bit more. The outer edge of the tube torus, where life no longer moves away from center, but folds over and turns inward toward center, is where karma from external actions or deeds are being examined and called to resolution. The inner edge of the tube torus, where life no longer moves toward center, but folds inward to then turn outward toward the outermost edge is where karma from our inner states of being are being examined and called to resolution (inner thoughts, emotions, feelings, ruminations). It is that self-examination forced by karma that changes life from outer to inner, and inner to outer, at outer edge, and inner edge, respectively.

*But when living from wholeness where inner and outer are lived as indivisible, nothing external compels the movement to turn outer to inner and inner to outer; rather it is the inspiration of Source within that impels it... life stops being moved by external forces and is now moved from inner space.

Further, when life, compelled by karma, is a 'captured' reality or a false sub-creation as it has been for humanity for some time, karma never resolves and the tube torus gets smaller and the turning points from outer to inner and inner to outer become more frequent. Life, death, life, death,... in ever shorter cycles.

Almine has explained that the energy source when caught in the karmic movement of the tube torus wherein we experience being an effect of life and not its cause – is polarity, that is, the back and forth between the poles that feel oppositional to one another (good/bad, life/death, self/other, past/future, etc). This is life in mirrors of illusion. A mirror is a false layer created by the mind that stays in the known.

So rather than move into the unknown where lies new vitality, mind denies the existence of doorways of higher potential, and puts up a barrier that acts like a mirror... Mirrors invert the source of the image, and so in them we look at 'what we are not'... and what is not true.

Mirrors keep a person confined to the prison of the known, with a dwindling power source because with polarity there is a net loss of resources. And so we are told that everything we know about ourselves thus far (in the mirrored reality) is most certainly not true, and many things we believe to be true (like limitation, scarcity, and aging) hold true only in a matrix and not beyond it.

So in the tube torus driven by karmic necessity, where life plays out in mirrors of distortion, humanity is trapped in infinite karma, and consciousness and DNA are continually degraded. In that cage or prison, it appears that life happens to us (we are an effect) and not for us...and we are caught in aging, dwindling vitality, and decay, until death comes as a reprieve and purification rite.

But the spiral movement is not the problem when the edges of the tube torus are ever outwardly expanding (into the unknown) and ever inwardly deepening (rooting in Source) – it is then that the movement supports evolution through a spiral of open-ended alchemy (where both the unknown and the deepening in Source are vitalizing points). The spiral movement can be observed everywhere in nature – it is the basis for evolution that is self-sustaining eternally.

"In the world of mirrors, we see that our source of energy to sustain those ghosts from the past, which becomes the tube torus of our enclosed reality, is the imagined game of opposites. This is a world of duality where we move between two poles, where more of one pole is less of another. 'I am more of this, and so I'm less of that...' It is this law of compensation that creates polarity and the movement between the poles."

"What is now to become our source of energy as we take our place at the center of life by living in that rendezvous point of infinite and finite renewal?"

That 'point' is the moment. By living in the moment you step into the center of your torus tube, where the river of eternal life flows through you.

But what is your energy source now? You might say it is the river of life. And while the river of life is certainly something that provides enormous resources, in the early stages of entering this state, you will not have the ability to use it. It's like giving steak to a little baby." Almine (from a retreat hosted in Holland)

Our bodies are not evolved enough to handle the full-on power of the One continually flowing through us - we would lose awareness of ourselves. So Almine asks, what is the source of energy as we first take up our place in the center where all is still? What will impel the movement from the stillpoint?

Almine has often said that we are not to become over-polarized in the feminine, as stagnation results unless we also experience engagement in outer reality. The state of perpetual generativity comes from the dynamic balance and the self-pacing of the ebbs and flows of times of deep stillness and times of passionate expression... Inner, outer, inner, outer, continually interleaving as a moebius of indivisible beingness...

"We do not have the ability so far to access the river of life, and so we need another source of energy. This source of energy is this: we stand in silence, but we create the movement. The spiraling of the movement, like the way the bathtub drains into the drain is where we interact with its movement. For as it passes through the center, it hits us where the transit point is, which is the spiraling movement against the stillness..."

*The spiraling creates the path of least resistance, and it supplies or feeds itself with energy. It will spiral into eternity, so it is the bridge between the finite and the Infinite. It's what superconductors are made of, it's what DNA is made of, it's what proteins are made of, and it's the river of life itself. (See note on the Tube Torus below) It's also so interesting that our Urusak Water device, also uses the method of water going through a spiral, which is surrounded by six wheels, The water spirals through the center to bring life back into the water."

In the bathtub analogy, the spiraling water flows most efficiently and does not overwhelm. The opening point is intact and the water flows unimpeded. The spiraling movement (river of life) against the stillness (the Self) is what the stirrings of the inner senses are as the Infinite's Inspiration and Intent resound in our inner being.

And in surrender to the guidance of inspiration within, we engage the rainbow spiral of life as the grand adventure the Infinite has called forth to us, for our most graceful self-discovery.

"Self-renewal in the moment is accomplished by surrendering to the moment with full awareness; to rebirth one's perspective anew through deep self-exploration of the smaller self and the greater self, as expressed as the environment."

Principle of Fullness #33*

The Evolving Tube Torus and Living from the Center StillPoint of Home Within

In embryology, we have the perfect map of evolution of consciousness on the journey of becoming increasingly self-aware. After the first cell division that produces the yin and yang, we have a triangulation, which makes up the foundational 'space of expression'. Three points are needed to create space in 2D.

The next three cell divisions in the embryo, which yield 4 parts, 8 parts, and then 16 parts, produce the 'matrices' that hold consciousness at various stages of evolution. They may also be considered as 'incubation spaces', wherein themes can be explored in a limited reality. At some point it becomes time to move out of an incubation space, into a higher order of expression, and that is when the divisions no longer are held by impenetrable membranes, and rather are held in place by the power of consciousness.

At that point, the divisions shift into a unified, fluid field, and 'the weak is made strong - meaning the weakness of separation turns into a strength, and the matrix that bound consciousness then becomes the stage upon which to express a higher, more layered reality. In other words, when you are in the matrix, you feel subject to it...you are an effect of its dictates; whereas when you leave the matrix because you have grown beyond its boundaries, that matrix turns into your canvas upon which to express a self-chosen reality from expanded awareness. In this manner, what was a tyrant becomes a 'tool' as self-awareness has evolved. This is the path of the manifestation of mastery, leading to masterful manifestation - becoming a co-creator of ever expanding impact to life.

So long as external factors are experienced as impacting or limiting your choices in life, you make outer circumstances the central moving force that controls your reality. But when you recognize your power to go beyond perceived limitation, then you become the central expressor in your reality - this is what turning the tube torus from tyrant to tool is about.

The Infinite Mother has built in a fail-safe mechanism into the system, such that no matter how dire and hopeless things may appear, through attitudes (particularly the ascension attitudes) and perspectives of hope and empowerment, humanity can activate the 'god-gene' in the DNA and impact on the quantum field that underlies reality. In other words, humanity can change the course of life and move out of the future of enslavement.

Masterful Manifestation
by the Seer Almine

“The Merciless Ones created the race of man to serve them. The Infinite One set in place the law of compensation to compensate for that which was deliberately withheld from man through manipulation of his DNA. In man slumbers the seed of great advancement. Would he use it to build the life-enhancing inner technology of godhood? Or would he squander it by building dependency on destructive external technology? Through seeing the effects of such a choice, will man be advanced.”

Principle of Hope #20*

The Urusak Water device and its alchemy is part of developing the 'life-enhancing inner technology of godhood'...

The Tube Tori of Evolving Consciousness

At each cell division, a tube torus is formed. A tube torus is the vehicle to embody consciousness at a certain level, such there there can be simultaneous rooting in the Source of our Existence and soaring into the unknown beyond a current paradigm. The key is that it becomes a vehicle for the exploration of the true self, when we have transcended the force of karma.

The heart organ is the first organ (torus) to develop in the embryo at the first division, and note that the heart has 4 chambers, which can be associated with the four sub-personalities of the psyche that are most active in life in form.¹ When the chakras of life in form, namely chakras 1-7, are combined into a unified field, then the heart center become our point of 'home' - the stillpoint within - the center of the torus - from which we express reality. When home is in the heart center, the Seer teaches that we are telepathic communication with life.

Mankind must find the stillness within, in order to choose the evolutionary path of developing the inner technology of godhood.

* by the Seer Almine - Copyright 2023 © Spiritual Journeys, LLC. All rights reserved

The next division into the 8 corresponds to the 8 cells at the base of the spine, which have never renewed in the dream of separation. Almine has stated that they have been programmed by the three Supergods that have held in place. These programs uphold the triangulation where outer (masculine) and inner (feminine) realities are separated spirit, soul, and body are antagonistic to one another, which has been in place since the beginning of time. We are awake/asleep, we live/we die, life is over-polarized in the masculine (patriarchal) or in the feminine (matriarchal). And it is not until we unite masculine and feminine aspects, that we unify the 8 parts of the psyche (the 8 sub-personalities) into a unified field, and transcend the matrix that has imprisoned consciousness for ages.

This causes the structure of the 8 to form a tube torus, where the 'pinch' in the middle is from antagonistic polarities now cooperating in dynamic balance. Those poles are:

1. the impulse or desire to expand and make known the unknown - exploring the boundlessness of being. It is the impulse to expand and grow.
2. the impulse or desire to unite in Source within... to be... and experience the deep peace of inner fullness in oneness.

When both impulses are cooperative, then we root to expand and we expand to root... we know the environment as the source of self-knowledge, and the details of life to hold infinite depths, and we are comfortable wherever we are. This state of being unifies the divided psyche and the 8 cells unite and activate the base of the spine as the originating center of higher awareness (kundalini). With 2 parts now forming the 'pinch' in the torus, and 6 remaining cooperative parts, we become the Seed of Life, and matter is birthed anew into fluid incorruptible Matter.

The Seed of Life too is a tube torus. So at each division into greater complexity, when the divisions become a unified field, the weakness becomes strength to create reality at ever higher orders of expression. At the unification of the 8, our home is in the Lahun chakra (we now operate from 12 chakras), and we are in empathic communication with life. We then "speak with the voice of mastery, you draw your voice not from the throat but all the way from the root".

The main point being made here is that at all levels of consciousness, we are working to master a torus, which is the fluid geometry 'shape' that can sustain itself perpetually as a vehicle to travel through spacetime. It if holds consciousness captive, it keeps imploding to lower levels, but when the force of transcendence overtakes through uniting the divisions, it becomes the self-sustaining and generative vehicle to travel freely into the unknown and include ever more dimensions of reality in our awareness.

And with the Urusak Water device, no matter what level of consciousness a person has attained to, they will communicate to the water their level of consciousness, and will be assisted to mastering the torus by healing, repairing and unifying systems in the body. The Urusak Water device is indeed a tool of enlightened mastery, where we awaken as the Seed of Life, as the cells of the body clear the magnetic programs of the ages.

As Almine has stated, everything is a torus - and the Urusak brings perfection to the part of the body so that they operate according to their divine blueprint.

"The Torus is the perfected geometry of the human energy field. It is the shape of the human zygote after 512 cell division, thus it stores all the Memory of We Are.

It is essentially a sphere that has imploded to form a doughnut-like shape, highly efficient, having maximum volume for minimum surface area. That is why smoke-rings take this form, as it is a dynamic and intelligent way for atoms to move through space.

The iris of the eye is also a torus, as this perfected geometry captures light at the optimum level. In fact, everything is a torus, a proton, an apple, the planet earth with its dimpled north and south poles are all torii.

This 4th dimensional imploded sphere is the Language of Higher Dimensions.

*It must be taught to all children of all ages, so that our future designs ring with this psychoactive hyper geometries. It permits connection between the atomic world and the galactic. Make use of it."*²

Grasp that the Urusak enlivens water with this tube toral movement, that has birthed the organs of the body, the eyes, DNA, blood cells, and so on. Water with this blueprint of movement is profoundly regenerative and renewing.

Life-Enhancing Inner Body Technology - The Vibrational Medicine of Our Time

The 'life-enhancing' inner technology that Almine refers to is 'vibrational medicine', which happens when the cells vibrate in sync with the 'biotechnological' pulsations of Infinite Intent. The most advanced alchemical tool for this is the Bird Clock of Infinite Intent -- a device for High Manifestation that coordinates the biological and technological numbers as carriers of informational codes of evolution. It is a most perfectly tuned 'clock' of space and time, which when activated causes Infinite Intent to be made manifest through us continually....we become the 'revolving door' through which cosmic life renews in each moment.

The Urusak is the device that most effectively aligns the song of the cells to receive the codes of Infinite Intent. It activates the Seed of Life in the water, so that water is the perfect substance to develop the inner technology of the body. Cells are the building materials of form that supports individuated expression, and when fluid and vibrating Infinite Intent, form is fluid, incorruptible, and filled with awareness of a person's Song of Self. Form then emerges on the alchemy of Infinite Intent and our Song of Self.

All of these tools work together to leverage the power to change all life as the light-bearers awaken to what they are and no longer live in self-suppression.

In his sacred geometry teachings, Jain² explains that water in Hebrew is 'Mayim', and 'Orh' is Light... so MemOry means Light crystallized in Water. Water holds memory, and the shapes in its crystalline molecules build matter into form. The brain is said to be 90% water and the body 70%, and the body fluids are what builds, repairs, and activates all parts of the body. Heal the water and fluids to be able to vibrate in sync with Infinite Intent, and bodies are restored to their divine blueprints of perfection.

In Dr. Emoto³ water experiments, the scientist discovered that negative emotions prevented water molecules from crystalizing... so they prevent water from becoming the 'divine plasma' to shape matter according to the divine codes of creation...and thereby forms become disharmonious to creation. So not only are bodies becoming distorted, but they are breaking down... not able to hold their form. Cancers are an example of this.

The nefarious agenda has been to keep humanity in fear and tension, so that their ability to evolve the body and connect with Source is lost. As Almine has said, humanity faces a 'fork in the road' - either mankind activates the seed of greatness that lies dormant within the DNA (the god-gene) and builds "the life-enhancing inner technology of godhood, or he squanders it by building dependency on destructive external technology".

With the Urusak Water device, the ability to evolve the inner technology is re-activated. The water, structured with the Seed of Life, will activate all that a being needs to reconnect to Source and awaken the divinity that slumbers within.

And the few who flow the holy waters and transfigure the cells and body into incorruptible, become the fractal patterns of the new reality.

The Components of the Spiral

In the spiral apparatus of the Urusak Water device, the 12 coils are separated in 6 coils above the alchemical plate, and 6 below, and the ones above where the water is poured into are the 'feminine' ones - they are the source, if you will. The mid-point is the point of alchemical union of feminine and masculine - the still-point of motionless motion... "where the river spirals against the stillness".

"By rushing water through pipes without the life-giving spiral, the water is stripped of its ions (later said to be its awareness particles) and is thus no longer living water. So that's where the spiral comes in, that's how the color spiral works (in the tube torus), and that brings us to the last point, that by doing this we are supplying ourselves with our own self-generating device..."

Almine

"...by doing this..." Almine is referring to, by immersing in the moment (or the still-point as window into eternity and portal to infinity), and inviting the spiraling river of life to impact us fully in omnisensory 'awaring', we are perpetually vitalized in Source. This becomes our self-generating dynamo of excess resources, such that as we engage with the holographic playground of the Infinite, we become an infinite source of power for the Cosmos.

But the key is that in surrender to the river of life or the One Life, we are 'moved' from the stillpoint, into automatic action that really is movement from stillness... and this takes us on paths of inevitability, causing ripples through the tube torus from the center point, where we are one with Source (through the Inner Babe aspect of being). And as archetypal player that takes nothing from the hologram of effects, but rather enjoys the pageantry in full omni-sensory/sensual delight, we become a massive net supplier of energy to the world.

More on the Establishing in the Center of the Tube Torus

Entering Timelessness

In Belvaspata of Oneness, it states that Kundalini in the pranic tube is the real epicenter of the body, while the misplaced epicenter that keeps us in density is the spine. (#135)⁴

The 'ascent of frequency', which is the phase that we are in now (as of December 31 2022)⁵, which can also be called the rising of the Divine Feminine, is a move into the real epicenter of the body. It is frequency... the kundalini arises from deep feeling and it causes much higher consciousness or light to become embodied.

By going into the center of the tube torus, we are establishing in the real epicenter. And this requires that the four lower chakras come 'out of the shadows' of suppression and into fuller expression from heightened awareness. (More on this in the section on the chakras).

It further states:

"Linear time is created by the spine and nervous system. Eternal time, (the movement of the tube torus) is created by the heart as a field around the body. The moments are created by the true epicenter of the body, the pranic tube. Although the moments still form a linear progression when shallowly lived, they are also windows into eternity. Each moment, when entered into all that exists, can be the entry into timelessness."

Through the Urusak's alchemy, we are entering the present moment of a timeless existence, and activating the 'Fountain of Youth' through the holy waters that we produce. All of this happens by degrees, as we engage with the device, in High Alchemy, that is, alchemy where we are part of what is offered up in the 'cauldron' as components being refined.

In High Alchemy, our shifts cause new 'emanations' from our being, which ripple out as blessings into our environment. The Urusak is the alchemical device that pulls the components together to coordinate the leveraged power.

"The one who transfigures his body into incorruptible, infinite matter transfigures his whole world."

Belvaspata of Oneness #86*

Each time we make the holy waters and approach it as a sacred ritual through which we are willing to self-purify in terms of whatever is coming up to clear in our lives, we will be clearing the fluids in the body, as they all hold memory. The blood holds memories around the needy heart, the cerebrospinal fluid holds memories of life in density, the lymph holds distortions of soul karma, etc. As we recapitulate everything that is flushing up in our reality, as preparation to engage the device⁶, we allow it to change the song of our cells that much more deeply, and the waters produced in this manner also become ever 'holier'.

The Urusak Water device is a Device to master true time. Time arises on the flow of frequency, and the side effect is the arising of ever new potentials for our lives. As the song of our cells sing Infinite Intent more clearly and profoundly, the reality called forth into our environment becomes filled with grand potentials to pivot all life to ever higher orders of expression.

Another aspect of being in the true epicenter is that the kundalini rises freely up the spine, activating the centers of magic of man. As we live from those powers, so we will see a new era of great innovation, healing, and blessings on the Earth.

Establishing in the Center of the Tube Torus

Finding fullness within ourselves, in appreciative beingness that fills us to overflowing love, praise and gratitude, is how we move into the center of the tube torus. And for that, Almine retrieved Principles of Fullness during a significant event in 2014, when she opened the gates to the 2nd underworld... the deeper levels of subconscious suppression.

These principles became accessible from her journey into the underworld... hidden in the depth of illusion's density called 'hell'. Always it is the case, that what is needed to dissolve illusion is hidden within it. And that is because we must be able to perceive beyond the illusion from heightened awareness, in order to wield the power we have hidden from ourselves. And that is why the 'places' of subconscious repression are also the 'mines' to excavate the gems of insight that move us into less dense realities where we are more conscious (responsible) as co-creators.

Almine was asked once what her most profound teachings were. Without hesitation she said it was the ascension attitudes.

Ascension Attitudes...

Love, Praise, and Gratitude (LPG) are so key in manifesting from awareness particles, because they pierce through the unreal in all three realities - the Field of the Material, Field of Cause, and Field of Intent. These three fields are meant to hold the finite forms of our infinite and ever-changing expression. These three ascension attitudes generate the power to manifest in the real dream of the Infinite, because they redirect our focus from illusion's grip to the real that acts as a portal of expansiveness. Without them, we 'manifest' in a lower static reality, and amass karma that keeps us in repetitive cycles.

Karma is the law of forced change to undo illusion... and LPG is the power to create the real and transcend illusion. In the absence of LPG, we use the lower force of karma to wake up from the dream of separation and density. But in the captured reality that has been tampered with, false past has been implanted, resulting in forced change that is traumatic and lowers consciousness. This creates a reality where we are the mercy of external forces, and a tube torus in a descension spiral that drains consciousness and traps beings in cycles of infinite karma.

With LPG we are increasing awareness and we flow with the Power of the One, to awaken into life ever more abundant and beautiful. The choice that is ours in every moment is made by whether or not we are in the center of our tube torus. LPG are powerful attitudes to remain in center... in the stillpoint, where we are able to choose the quality of life unfolding and preserve consciousness.

Principles of Fullness and Shadowless Light in Tonal Luminosity

In 2019 we were given these Principles of Fullness, and that is when Almine also left her teaching work to go deeply into the feminine reality of inner space. And there she holds the space so that we may bring the great illuminations that we have mastered, into the place of frequency.

This is how we become embodied in shadowless light - in great luminosity that has equal depth of frequency, we become a blessing to all life, rather than a presence that causes forced change (see more on this below).

The Urusak Water device opens up the lower chakras that have been “in the shadows”, and supports their expression through the activation of a new reality from a new song of the cells. This creates the “feminine” tube torus that is the alchemy of its spiral.

A recommended resource to assist in centering are the 33 Principles of Fullness from Almine (available as a separate document).

Another resource that can be revisited is the series on “Dismantling the Mirror of the Tube Torus” that has been published in the book of Runes.¹⁴ We include the PDFs with the Urusak materials, as going over these insights will support you with living from the center of the tube torus.

These are:

- IAM_DismantlingtheMirroroftheTubeTorus.pdf

“We will create a Light that is massive, but it doesn't implode because it is backed by frequency. Massive Light without a very high backing frequency implodes, but with a very high backing frequency it expands... we are going to expand, to incorporate all creatures within the created universes and cosmos. This will remove illusional divisions between Life-Death-Ascension, as any illusions that come into contact with massive Light with a very high backing frequency will dissolve. These illusional divisions can only be broken once we incorporate all life within the massive Light that we become, and that is the purpose, not only for your governing this particular solar system, but that is your future. And you become All that Is. And every little thing that you do, manifests in the Allness that you can experience. My deep respect and reverence for such majestic beings as traveling companions on this Holy eternal journey.... However long this will take, we are dedicating our existence to fulfilling this intent of Infinite design.”

URUSAK
WATER®

Whereas the lower chakras were 'in the shadows' of suppressed subconscious before, they must now express the 'high backing frequency', such that any insight we have... our highest truth and guidance, is inseparable from the eternally unfolding moment that arises from feminine depth... from deep feeling / frequency. It is then that we may become the fountain of blessings, flowing 'holy waters' as the substance that makes whole, and carries tonal luminosity...

Key Points in Establishing in the Center Stillpoint of the Tube Torus

- When living the fullness of the moment and wanting for nothing external, but willing to enjoy everything from overflowing gratitude at the gift of life, we are beyond karma.
- Beyond karma, there are no mirrors. Our innocent perception has dissolved them, and no ill intent can touch us... in fact all that comes to us are blessings.
- The Tube Torus as the mechanism that upholds the cycles is here to stay. The Urusak Water device holds the secrets of how to turn it from tyrant into tool.
- Karma served to keep us in the incubation chamber, until it was time to leave. But mankind could not without help from the light-bearers, as shadow beings had hacked reality and trapped consciousness in sub-creations.
- Infinite soul karma prevented presencing the center of the Tube Torus, and rather than uniting with Source in feminine, non-cognitive depth of magic, the center of the Tube Torus filled with an ever deeper distorted underworld... to infinite depths below.
- Infinite karma of actions/deeds in outer life (caused by false spirit changing the past) prevented us from expanding the outer edges of reality and opening up new paradigms into the unknowable...this caused us to be imprisoned in a matrix of dwindling resources and diminishing consciousness. Leaving karma and transcending the illusions through the full ascension attitudes is how we 'slip into' the true Dream of Source, wherein the tube torus is our vehicle to travel through pristine space/time.

Incorporating All Kingdoms Within

The suppressed Kingdoms on earth reflect the suppression of their tones in our Song of Self. As we awaken these tones, all subconscious material will no longer be experienced as density, but rather as treasures left behind in past, awaiting our discovery through higher insights. Past that becomes fluid and inspirational to the present moment is assimilated as gems of consciousness that open us to new futures as potentials called forth into our reality. A subconscious that holds only gems of inspiration awaiting our discovery, causes the underworld to give way as portal to our infinite depths in the non-cognitive feminine reality.

The suppressed Kingdoms has caused:

- Occlusions in spine and blockages in joints that have prevented us from knowing Source within. (Gemstone Kingdom)
- An inability to express Love, Praise and Gratitude, which has prevented the ability to raise above illusion, and has allowed for the infiltration of harmful infectious agents in the body and the inability to access the healing frequencies. (Plant Kingdom)
- It has kept humanity in lower lack-based desires and sense of disempowerment, mired in programs of comparison and feelings of unworthiness and lack of self-confidence. This has sustained a reality of opposition and struggle... where 'survival of the fittest' rules. (Animal Kingdom)

From the above, humanity has been easily controlled by malevolent beings who to take over the planet. Were humanity to know the power of attitude, focus, perspective, the tyrants in the world would be chased away like flies.

It is through the expression of the tones of the 4 Kingdoms of Nature - mineral, plant, animal, and humanity - that the light-bearers will take back the Earth our Home, and establish a pristine space for the Embodiment of the Infinite. The Urusak Water device is the alchemical device that activates the tones of the 4 kingdoms so that they awaken in the cells.

4-Kingdoms alchemy has been studied through 2021/22 and is offered as a program. It is a profound study that is deeply life-changing.⁷

Singing the tones of the 4 Kingdoms changes the song of the cells, and is a big part of how we master the lower chakras and liberate their tremendous powers to manifesting life anew. The Urusak Water device assists with this clearing and activation of these centers of power.

“Changing the macrocosm by changing the matrix in the cells.”

⁷ The resulting self-empowerment will assist in the potency of the holy waters you produce with the Urusak Water device. This program is in full cooperation with the alchemy of the device. Know that it's not necessary to create very powerful healing water, but our power is infinite, and it's a step toward that realization. Highly recommended for those using the Urusak Water device to create healing essences for others. Visit academyofalchemy.com for details..

URUSAK
WATER[©]

This alchemical equation sits under the water carafe and on top of the power wheel for the healing, holy waters. It imbues in the water the power to restore the proper notes to the first four chakras, and the tones of their corresponding Kingdoms will begin to activate, bringing in new powers:

- To perceive divinity in all life and tap into a source of endless vitalizing life-force. To know divinity to be in the aliveness of the material, and interact in a world of aware, incorruptible, fluid Matter that is responsive to clear, aligned intent. As Matter becomes fluid, so a life of magic opens to us (mineral/gemstone Kingdom).
- To break the bondage of decay, illness, and aging, and express Love, Praise and Gratitude powerfully, which amasses awareness particles as manifestation power to express life anew. Purified emotions allow us to elevate creational power into the Heart, and activate the pure desire to become ever more aligned and whole through embracing destiny.
- To lift ourselves above all limiting paradigms and obsolete matrices, that we continually push the boundaries of what we thought possible, activating new DNA templates to express the genius held within its codes. This brings self-confidence to boldly show up anew, and live in dynamic and passionate engagement with life.
- To live by the resonance of an open Heart, where the depth of Mother's Love rays out Heart Energies to magnetize to us a harmonious reality in sync with the innermost dreams and pure desires of the Heart.

"When the human song (or song of pristine man within) and the cosmic song are in perfect harmony, the mastery of man is restored."

The whole environment will respond to you as your voice "filled with magic, speaks with the tones of Creation that sing like music in your cells".

The Urusak Water device gives us the alchemy to make the waters to restore the song of the cells. With a new song in cells, we are fully supported to evolve our Song of Self to express more and more of who we are, and thereby express all life anew. In this manner, we harmonize with Creation, and restore life to being a sacred and pristine playground for all beings loved by the Holy Mother to flourish.

The Addition of Fragrance Alchemy

The Seer has said that adding Fragrance Alchemy to an alchemical process leverages the power by at least a factor of three. This was meant across the board, and it is safe to assume that it will be greater in those who have achieved greater embodied wholeness.

The alchemical oils too are vibrational tools that operate on infinite levels of depth. It was revealed by an Angelgod in 2014, that scent is the most powerful alchemy there is, as it is the only outer sense organ that has never fallen into separation. Owing to this, fragrance bypasses all separative mechanisms and reminds a person of aspects of Oneness... The Fragrance Alchemy oils cause oneness to be experienced as a body felt-sense, and this is how they enhance the alchemy, because the wearer is now vibrationally attuned to the reality of oneness beyond space and time.

There are two main oils to use with the Urusak:

The Alchemical Healing Oil to Clear the Energetic Pathways of the Body

A specific alchemical healing oil was imbued with the intent of removing obstructions from the energetic pathways in the body (the cause of all illness and disease). The Seer felt this to be the most beneficial and enhancing to the alchemy of the Urusak, so that distorted and dissonant tones would be cleared from the energetic body and harmonious ones restored. This causes you to be in alignment and in sync with the intent of the Urusak.

The energetic pathways include meridians and chakras, and the oil helps transmute negative emotions to ones that are life enhancing. Refer to the section, Life-Enhancing Inner Body Technology - The Vibrational Medicine of Our Time, to understand how emotions play in with the structuring of water.

This oil is best applied under the feet (can be rubbed into the balls of the feet). Another good location is on the wrists.

This oil is only available for owners of the Urusak Water device and can be obtained on urusakwater.com.

Crystal Waters to activate the Tones of the Gemstones and Crystals in the Body

The next oil is Crystal Waters, and this is the oil to activate the power of Gemstone Alchemy in us. The gems and crystals activate tones in the crystalline structures and liquid crystals in the body, and is a tremendous boost to the body become a fluid field that can regenerate according to Divine Intent in each moment. And as this power increases in the High Alchemist, you become the regenerative power for the cosmos that lives within.

Quartz crystals vibrates at a rate that syncs perfectly with the 60-code of the minutes and hours of a 24 hour creational cycle. This alchemical oil supports the power of crystals in the body to sync up with the Intent of Source for the fluidly shaped body to express as a perfect vehicle of Infinite Intent.

This oil is applied on the Crown point.

Together, both oils support the holy waters to shape the body as a bio-conductive technology to downstep and transmit Infinite Intent (light) to all life forms.

In personal correspondence with the Seer, Almine said that we could not embody this power without this alchemical oil.

This oil is available for worldwide delivery on academyoffragrancealchemy.com or for European customers on urusakwater.com and geurenalchemie.nl.

Other Suggestions

Other oils you may wish to use as you dive into the possibilities of healing through 'Water Magic', are:

- The oils for the meridians (both 12 ordinary and 8 extraordinary meridian sets), to support the meridian system as a unified field.
- The oils for the four Etheric Meridians Protocol - to support the creation of Heaven on Earth and mastery of the tube torus from inner space.
- The Goddess oils sets, to deepen in the power of the feminine.
